

Presentations - Sylke Fromberg - Germany

THE EUROPEAN CELTS & THEIR RELATIONSHIP TO NATURE

Experience the Celtic consciousness & come closer to nature through singing, language, rhythm, movement & ceremony

Tuesday 19 March Waterwheel Tavern Lake Tyers 10am

PRESENTATION for FLOAT: About the Celts & the indigenous high culture of Europe; Sylke will also talk about Guthausen, a centre in Germany that is working towards the renewal of Art-Nature-Culture with an emphasis on the Celtic. Followed by learning a song or Celtic element No cost

Wednesday 20 March Lake Tyers Beach Hall 7 - 9.30pm

WORKSHOP: Experience the European Celtic culture through song, language, rhythm, movement & other elements $20 single/$30 couple - no credit card facilities

Sunday 24 March Fisherman's Landing Boat Ramp - off Mill Point Rd 2 - 4pm

WORKSHOP: Water of Life - The ancient Celts honoured water in their daily life, looked after the sacred sources & treasured the flowing, whispering waters of life. Learn how to see & hear water anew through the Celtic consciousness. Finish with a water ceremony $10 - no credit card facilities

For more information email angelique@activ8.net.au

THE CELTS

In recent years archaeologists have been raising more and more Celtic treasures from the earth which fundamentally changed their previous understanding of the Celts: "We must now speak of a high culture and rewrite the history books!" What do we really know about the Celts? In the past the Celts had strong cultural, philosophical and spiritual connections to many ancient civilizations including India, ancient Egypt and Greece to name a few. This led to friendly relationships and the unfolding of a Celtic or Goelic-Indian shared high culture, with an exceptionally DEEP CONNECTION TO NATURE. Our Celtic ancestors may just hold the key to our future because now we need to develop a CULTURE WITH NATURE, just as they did.

SYLKE FROMBERG

Sylke Fromberg lives in Germany and is a musician and singing teacher. She specialises in the sacred songs of different traditions and cultures, and shares her knowledge with people across Europe, as well as in India, UK, Canada, Australia and New Zealand. She is an instructor in the Yoga of Integral Learning (learning with your whole being) which aims to develop the human being in all their capacities - a well rounded, creative individual - a singing, dancing, speaking-poetic, artistic human being.

Sylke is a teacher in The School of the Ocean of Life/MIN-ILIT (initiated by Shin Gwydion Fontalba) which among other projects worldwide is involved in the renewal of the Celtic culture in Europe. She is a team-member of Guthausen, one of the most important centres for this work, near the Lake of Constance/Bodensee in southern Germany. This centre has hosted Celtic Seasonal Festivals for the past 18 years, with the aim of highlighting the inter-connection of NATURE-ART-CULTURE and the healthy, whole human being.

www.guthausen.org

www.min-ilit.org

Images: Gundestrup Cauldron